

On Monday, March 29th, 2010, the Colorado Consumer Health Initiative (CCHI) is organizing the Colorado Health Care Day of Action -- a day when residents of Colorado are invited from across the state to discuss healthcare reform.

The Autism Society of Colorado is participating as a Co-Sponsor. Last year over 200 Coloradans turned out for the event and this year we are expecting an equally enthusiastic showing. It's a great way to start getting involved in your local government. If you've always been interested, but weren't sure where to start, this is an excellent introduction!

Over 800,000 Coloradans are without health insurance. Many more are underinsured or crushed by medical debt. We need health care that ensures quality, affordable access to all, keeps hardworking Coloradans from losing their homes and livelihoods due to illness, and stimulates the economy. Colorado can't wait any longer!

Health Care Day of Action will run from 8:30 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. and will include an introduction to what is at stake in Colorado this legislative session, presentations, a discussion on state and national healthcare reform efforts, and lunch with legislators. Breakfast and lunch will be provided.

ASC is co-sponsoring this event to advocate for health care reform for all individuals, including those affected by Autism Spectrum Disorders. Please join us in our efforts!

When/Where: Monday, March 29th, 2010 from 8:30 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. at the Central Presbyterian Church, 1660 Sherman St, Denver, CO (just a couple blocks North of the Capitol).
