

Coming This Summer!

Challenging Behavior Workshops for Parents of Young Children

A Series of 5 workshops designed especially for parents (but appropriate for ANYONE who works with young children)

Parenting Young Children with Challenging Behavior— No More Sticker Charts & Consequences!

What's it About? This series of fun, engaging and informative classes will teach you innovative and EFFECTIVE ways to think about and respond to the challenging behavior you may see in your children. Based on the latest brain research, evidence-based practices, and principles of positive guidance, the techniques you will learn will feel good to both you and your child.

Come to one or all!
Each class is complete in itself.

Who is it for? Primarily for parents of children aged 2-11, but can be applied to younger and older children as well. Also appropriate for childcare providers & others who work with young children.

Each workshop is Saturday morning, 9:30 am-12:30 pm, in Lakewood (near South Wadsworth & Jewell).

June 12: Responding to Challenging Behavior: The ABCs of Positive Guidance

June 26: What is with this Kid!? Understanding Temperament to Decrease Challenging Behavior

July 10: A Fun and Effective Way to Strengthen Relationships to Prevent and Decrease Challenging Behavior

July 17: Reduce Challenging Behavior by Reducing Stress and Using Relaxation Techniques

July 31: Behavior & Boys: Survivors Guide to Parenting Young Boys

What's it Cost?
Just $25 per class or $100 for all five classes.

How do I Register? Call 303-423-1026 or email sk@RelationshipRoots.org for more information or to register.

Relationship ROOTS

The Challenging Behavior Experts

303-423-1026 ♦ sk@RelationshipRoots.org